Parliament Strikes Back, Adjusts Laws

Kishi Leaders Join Leftists To Block Exchange of Treaty

TOKYO (AP)—Some leaders of Premier Nobusuke Kishi's conservative party today joined the leftists in a new, last-ditch fight to postpone the exchange of documents sealing Japan's new security pact with the United States.

The move put new pressures on the weary 64-year-old Premier who has been battling for weeks to maintain Japan's military links with America.

Kishi's ruling Liberal Democrats struck back early today with quick approval in Parliament's upper house to adjust present Japanese laws to conform with provisions in the new treaty.

The legislation caught the Socialist opposition by surprise.

None was present when the voting took place. The Socialists and other opposition groups have been boycotting Parliament, but the Socialists had promised to wage a new fight against the legislation.

It appeared the action would spur the opposition to put new obstacles in Kishi's path.

Already confronting Kishi are a nationwide strike on Wednesday called by the Communist-influenced Sohyo Labor Federation, and new demonstrations planned by the fanatical Zengakuren Student Federation.

Four factional leaders in Kishi's party demand that he resign immediately and put off the exchange of treaty documents with the United States pending the outcome of new general elections.

They were Ichiro Kono, Takeo Miki, Kenzo Matsumura, and former Premier Tanzan Ishibashi. They planned a two-fold attack—an appeal to the U.S. Senate to withhold its own ratification, and a request for support from the powerful middle road factions in the Liberal Democrat party.

The middle factions are headed by Hayato Ikeda, minister of international trade and industry, and party leaders Bamboku Ono and Mitsujiro Ishii.

These factions, together with Kishi's loyal following, make up

Senate Dems Push for Tax Changes

Say More Revenue Needed to Meet Higher Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—A series of revenue-raising tax changes awaited Senate action today.

Their Democratic sponsors said they are needed to help pay for increased spending already voted by the Senate, and to offset Republican charges of fiscal irresponsibility.

The proposed changes were offered as amendments to a bill to continue present wartime rates on corporation income and excise taxes and to authorize a 293-billion-dollar national debt ceiling until July 1, 1961. Normally tax changes must originate in the House.

Sponsors said the changes they propose would raise about two billion dollars of additional revenue by plugging what they call loopholes in present tax law.

Among their proposals are amendments to repeal the 4 percent tax credit on dividend income, to provide for income tax withholding on dividend income, to cut the oil and gas depletion allowance, and to limit the entertainment items which taxpayers now can deduct as business expenses.

The Senate wrangled about the tax measure through a 10-hour session Saturday but succeeded in reaching only one vote. In two 14-hour marathons Thursday and Friday it had disposed of six major pieces of legislation.

Several Democrats had urged Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) not to bring the bill up Saturday. They asked that a party conference be held first to try to develop a policy to counter Republican charges of fiscal irresponsibility.

These charges, they said, would be hard to answer unless some revenue-raising measures were advanced in view of higher spending figures voted by the Senate last week.

These included a one-billion-dollar increase over President Eisenhower's budget for military spending, a similar 465-million-dollar increase in a health funds appropriations bill, and a 750-million-dollar federal pay raise not included in Eisenhower's budget.

In addition, the Senate Finance Committee recommended 750 mil-

260 Attend Romanian Homecoming

More than 260 attended the dinner and dance at the Romanian homecoming Saturday evening sponsored by the Romanian Society Leul in the Romanian Hall.

Atty. Nicholas A. Bucur of Cleveland, lecturer, author and traveler, spoke on the subject, "The Power of Propaganda Through the Youth."

The speaker said youth can spread good propaganda as well as bad, and that the youth of America must be encouraged to work for peace among the nations.

He explained phases of the work of the United States diplomats and suggested ways in which they could be schooled to properly represent Americans and their desires for peace, as American United States is trying to give aid.

George Kleon was toastmaster.

Mayor Dean Cranmer welcomed the group, and Peter Nicora, national secretary of the society, spoke on the tradition and history of the Romanians.

Gold plated vases inscribed "Romanian Homecoming 1960" were awarded to: Mrs. Florence Solomon, who had the largest family present; Constantin Canja, eldest member of the lodge; Mrs. Helen Monda Miller of Cleveland, first born Romanian in Salem in 1904; and to Miss Betty Ann Stoita, "Miss Union Leaguer of the Romanian Society of America."

Remarks also were made by John Stoita, president of the society. Special guests welcomed were Rev. Traian Vintila, pastor of the local St. John's Romanian Church; Mayor and Mrs. Cranmer; Fred Koenreich, who represented City Council; and Mrs. Koenreich; Police Chief Martin Lutsch and Mrs. Lutsch; and Orelin Naragon, president of the school board, and Mrs. Naragon.

Ike Hawaii-Bound After Korea Visit

IKE CHEERED IN KOREA — This was the scene in Seoul, Korea, as President Eisenhower acknowledged the greeting of thousands of people who lined the streets of the Korean capital to greet him. The chief executive visited Seoul as the last stop of his Asian tour before heading back to Hawaii today.

Good Weather Favors Potters' Annual Picnic

Perfect weather prevailed for the 32nd annual Potters Picnic, which attracted an estimated 30,000 Saturday to Meyers Lake Park in Canton.

Although the crowd did not break records, the picnic committee pronounced it one of the most pleasant and successful outings ever held by the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters. The all-time record for a Potters Picnic crowd was the 35,500 that attended the 1959 outing.

A crowded program of special events kept the potters and their friends busy from early afternoon until late Saturday night. The crowd hit its peak between 3 and 5 p.m., when the midway was jammed and all the rides were humming busily. The amusements got their biggest workout between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. as all the rides were free for the two hours.

A huge baby show and a "junior bathing beauty contest" were the two highlights of the formal program.

First place in the group up to 1 year went to Timmie Lockhart, 10 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Remma Lockhart of East Liverpool. In the 12 age bracket, first prize was won by Jackie Croxall of East Liverpool. First prize in the 2-3 division was won by Mandy Kay Reynolds, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reynolds of Canfield RD 1.

In the up to 1 bracket, second prize went to Helen Lynn Snediker, 7 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Snediker of East Liverpool and third place was won by Diane Gail Buehler, 8 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Buehler of Alliance RD 4.

In the 1-2 bracket, second place went to Kimberly Sue Brooks, 17 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Brooks Jr. of New Cumberland and the third prize was awarded James E. Seever, 18 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seever of East Liverpool.

Second place in the 2-3 bracket was won by Donnie Hildebrand, 2, son of Mrs. Maxine Hildebrand and third place went to Michael O'Farrell Jr., 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike O'Farrell of East Liverpool.

Each first place winner received a $50 U.S. Savings Bond. Second place winners were given $25 bonds and the third place winner received $10 in Savings stamps. Judges were six registered nurses from Molly Stark Sanitarium at Canton. They were: Mrs. Helen Dickerhoff, Mrs. Frances Paumier, Mrs. Mildred Miller, Mrs. Marie Norton, Mrs. Myra Myers and Mrs. Lenore Stevens.

A field of nearly 500 boys and girls 4-7 entered the "junior bathing beauty" contest held in mid-afternoon.

Emmy Awards Presented to 22 Tonight

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A streamlined presentation of Emmy awards for the year's best achievements in television takes to the air tonight at 10 o'clock, Eastern Daylight Time, on NBC-TV.

The Academy of Television Arts and sciences has aimed its 12th annual presentations strictly at home viewers. For the first time there will be no studio audience. The number of awards has been reduced from last year's 42 to 22. Some minor ones will be merely announced rather than presented. Fred Astaire and Arthur Godfrey will be hosts on the program. The dancer, whose TV debut collected nine emmies last year, has been nominated again for "An Other Evening with Fred Astaire."

Actors nominated for best single performance awards are Alec Guinness, "The Wicked Scheme of Jehal Deeks"; Laurence Olivier, "The Moon and Sixpence"; and Lee J. Cobb, "Project Immortality."

Actress competing in this category are Ingrid Bergman, "The Turn of the Screw"; Julie Harris, "Ethan Frome"; and Teresa Wright, "The Margaret Bourke-White Story."

Jane Wyatt of "Father Knows Best" opposes Loretta Young and Donna Reed in the best series actress contest. Nominees for best series actor are Richard Boone, "Have Gun, Will Travel"; Raymond Burr, "Perry Mason"; and Robert Stack, "The Untouchables."

Officer Installation Held by Jaycees

New officers were installed when the Junior Chamber of Commerce held a dinner program Saturday at the VFW Hall. About 70 persons attended.

The new officers are: President Ed Butcher; first vice president, Ford Joseph; second vice president, Richard Coburn; secretary, William Barker, and treasurer, Wayne Darling.

Directors are Richard Calvin, R. J. Parker, Richard Sekely, Willard Stamp and Rosty Tomlinson.

It was announced that George C. Equizi of the local club has been honored with membership in the senate of JCI, the 2,162nd person in the world upon whom the honor has been conferred.

The award was presented to Equizi "in recognition of his outstanding service to his community and JCI."

Walter Taylor was presented the Key Man Award, and Ford Joseph received the Key Man Director Award.

James Copham of McDonald, vice chairman, 100 per cent individual membership committee, of JCI, was guest speaker.

Gets Pledge U.S. Aid Won't Be Wasted

Nearly 3 Million Welcomed President On Far East Tour

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—President Eisenhower left South Korea for Honolulu tonight, completing a Far Eastern tour on which he was cheered by millions of Asians but forced to bypass Japan because of left-wing rioting there.

Eisenhower left with a pledge from South Korea's reform government to guard against wasting the hundreds of millions of dollars in aid the United States pours in each year.

"I pledge that we will do everything possible to insure that American aid funds are wisely, efficiently and honestly used for the benefit of all the Korean people," Prime Minister Huh Chung declared in his parting words to Eisenhower at Seoul International Airport.

Cheered by Million Koreans Wildly cheered by one million Koreans who blocked his motorcade Sunday and by hundreds of thousands more on Monday, Eisenhower on departure said it was a "memorable experience" to see "so many Korean people along the routes of travel I have followed."

In all, nearly three million Filipinos, Chinese Nationalists on Formosa, Okinawans and Koreans welcomed the first American president to tour the Orient while in office. A three-day visit to Japan was called off when the Japanese government said it could not fully guarantee Eisenhower's safety because of violent left-wing rioting in Tokyo.

The only anti-American demonstration Eisenhower actually saw was on Okinawa, where 1,500 pro-Japanese chanted "go home" and "snake-danced."

Eisenhower urged leaders of the new South Korean government to make the most of their opportunity to give the Communist-threatened land true democracy. Referring to the revolt against Syngman Rhee and his strongman rule, he said "prompt and judicious fulfillment of the recently expressed wishes of the Korean people is a momentous challenge."

Plugs Hard at Needs In his final speeches, Eisenhower plugged hard at what he called the imperative need of more freedom and opportunity for Koreans who two months ago overthrew Syngman Rhee's strongman regime.

"The prompt and judicious fulfillment of the recently expressed wishes of the Korean people is a momentous challenge," he said in an address before a packed session of the Korean National Assembly. Eisenhower received a thunderous two-minute ovation when he entered the assembly hall.

Koreans of every rank roared their approval of Eisenhower at every turn again today.

A million friendly Koreans turned out Sunday to give the President a welcome so frenzied that a fender of his bubble-top limousine was dented. Security agents ordered a detour to prevent Eisenhower from being mobbed by admirers.

Contrast To Heckling It was a sharp contrast to the sneaking from 1,550 screaming, snake-dancing, pro-Japanese demonstrators who competed with an otherwise friendly throng of 150,000 Okinawans during the President's brief stopover on the U.S. base island earlier Sunday.

Eisenhower, in what amounted to a lecture, told South Korea's lameheaded legislators they must not only talk democracy but buttress it with a free press, public education and a fairly elected National Assembly.

The 233-man chamber has agreed to dissolve itself next month just before new nationwide

Algerian Rebels Seek Paris Talk

France Will Discuss Only 'Cease Fire'

PARIS (AP)—The Algerian rebel government-in-exile offered today to send Premier Ferhat Abbas to Paris to discuss the Algerian revolt with the French government.

The French government quickly agreed to receive Abbas, but official sources said once more any discussion would "concern only a cease-fire, the disposition of weapons and the fate of the fighters."

Only after a cease-fire, they said, could arrangements be discussed for a referendum on Algeria's future.

The French government offering to send Abbas was in response to President Charles de Gaulle's radio address June 14. The communique said an emissary would be sent to Paris to arrange Abbas' trip.

De Gaulle has promised the rebels personal safety while in France and the right to leave France if negotiations break down.

A French source said De Gaulle probably will meet, personally with Abbas, although there was no specific pledge. De Gaulle has said in the past that a referendum on Algeria's future will be held within four years after the fighting ends.

By the account of French informants, the French army is winning steadily in clashes with Algerian rebel forces now that electrified barbed wire lines block off rebel reinforcements from Tunisia and Morocco. Rebel leaders were described as divided.

The rebel acceptance is certain to stir outcries among rightists in both Algeria and France. These circles, along with the French army, are opposed to any negotiations with the rebels.

Car Jumps Curb, East Palestine Man Found Dead

EAST PALESTINE — Roy Huff, about 65, of 393 E. Taggart St., apparently suffered a heart attack and died at the wheel of his car while on his way to work at 6:50 a. m. today, police report.

The vehicle went over the curb, knocked down a parking meter and damaged two store fronts on N. Market St.

County Coroner William A. Kolozsi is investigating.

Police said the victim was headed for the Robert Grim Welding Co. on the Unity-East Palestine Road, where he was a foreman, when he suffered the seizure.

His auto damaged the fronts of the Mascher Jewelry store and the C. V. Atkinson Clothing Store.

The body is at the Van Dyke Funeral Home.

The victim's wife and three daughters are among the survivors.

The committee has arranged a program, "School Days," in which old time memories will be revived. It will be narrated by Vernon Crouse. Music will be provided by the North Lima Community Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Ruby Marshall.

Second Man Flees From Wrecked Car

Liverpool Police Nab Suspect In Drug Theft

EAST LIVERPOOL — Injured when his auto overturned on the River Rd. early Sunday in a 95-mile-an-hour race with a police cruiser, a 31-year-old Pittsburgher is under constant guard today at City Hospital while law enforcement agencies throughout the tri-state area seek a companion wanted for the narcotics burglary of a downtown East Liverpool drug store.

Eighteen bottles of narcotics were taken from the prescription cabinets of Peoples Drug Store at 5th and Market Sts. about 3:30 a. m. yesterday and an unsuccessful attempt was made to crack the safe.

The two suspects were spotted as they left the building carrying a suitcase, touching off the chase that led to the capture of one.

The Pittsburgher was at the wheel of a late model car that overturned onto its top on an "S" curve on the River Rd. while being pursued by Patrolmen Kent Garvey and W. E. Nott.

Pinned in the wreckage, the injured suspect was extricated and handcuffed by police but his companion bolted from the auto and made his escape into head-high weeds along the roadway although the officers fired four shots in their pursuit. Despite a wide search, he still is at large today.

A suitcase containing a big assortment of burglary tools and the narcotics taken in the burglary was buried out of the getaway car in the pursuit in an attempt to wreck the police car, but the cruiser eluded the object successfully.

Officers said 18 bottles of morphine and codeine were taken from the drug store. Although the safe was battered badly, it had not been opened.

The intruders entered the second floor office of W. S. Fouks, attorney, immediately above the drug store, and then cut a hole through the floor to gain entry to the store. They apparently left by the same opening, as the drug store doors were not forced.

The suspect is being held on an open charge. Under questioning yesterday, he refused to give any information, police said. The wrecked car was registered in his name.

Kidney-Transplant Fails As Boy Dies

BOSTON (AP)—A mourning father, who gave up one of his kidneys in a fruitless attempt to save the life of his son, says: "I'm glad we tried."

Robert Reck, 15, died on Father's Day. Ten days earlier, surgeons at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital removed a kidney from his father, Virgil N. Reck, and transplanted it to Robert.

The boy was seriously ill with a kidney ailment which doctors said would have eventually proven fatal.

"I know everything humanly possible was done by the hospital staff to save Bobby's life," said Reck, a sergeant on the Dayton, Ohio, police force.

A successful father-to-son kidney transplant would have established a medical precedent. Doctors at the hospital have performed numerous successful kidney transplant operations, most of them involving identical twins.

Sgt. Reck recovered from the operation. But the boy lingered in serious condition for 10 days, and the hospital said after his death that the kidney "failed to establish adequate circulation."

Recreation Program At Columbiana Park Set

COLUMBIANA — The summer recreation program director at Firestone Park, Rich Berryman, has announced the scheduled basketball activity will not get underway until the first week of July.

He said Booster Club members, headed by Norman Bauman, will erect tennis courts at one of the paved back courts next week.

Berryman also took further time to outline the over-all recreation program, which he said has not been too well understood.

The morning program on Mondays and Wednesdays is open to boys who were in the sixth and seventh grades during the school year just completed.

On Tuesdays and Thursdays, the morning session is for boys who were in the fourth and fifth grades. The morning session assembles at 9 a.m. at the baseball diamond below the tennis courts.

Starting daily at 1 p.m., the afternoon program is set up on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays for girls and boys who were in the seventh grade through high school. On Tuesdays and Thursdays it is for boys and girls in the fourth through sixth grades. The archery program is set for 2:30 p.m. each day and is open to all.

The director stressed that the scheduled Friday swimming program, due to start July 8, will not offer instruction of any kind. There will be races for both swimmers and non-swimmers and diving competition for all age groups.

REV. W. S. LONGSWORTH, pastor, and Raymond Mackall are representing the First Methodist Church at the annual conference this week at Lakeside. Rev. Longworth is serving on the board of ministerial training, which interviews all candidates for the ministry.

Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church will meet at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, June 23, for a coverd luncheon at the church. Meat, rolls and a beverage will be furnished. There also will be a nursery service available.

MRS. RUSSELL BARROW will be hostess to members of the Columbiana Garden Club at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, with Mrs. Robert Powers serving as associate hostess. Report will be presented by Mrs. Russell Barber and Mr. Allan White.

New officers will be installed when the Columbiana Mothers Club meets at 8:30 p.m. today at the home of Mrs. Dale Young, with Mrs. James Garstick assisting.

County Had 15 Dog Damage Claims In '59

Columbiana County had fewer dog damage claims than any other county in the state during 1959. The report on dog populations, collections in fees and damage payments was released this week by State Auditor James A. Rhodes. The report showed that the 15 claims netted their complainants $236, for the third lowest damage payments figure in the 88 counties.

On the other hand, only eight counties in the state showed more dog licenses issued than did Columbiana, which had 16,719, yielding $34,867 in license fees.

In Mahoning County, 17,613 licenses were issued, netting $38,822.50 fee. There were 578 damage claims filed for which $749.86 was paid.

Statewide the dog population since 1950 has increased about 22 per cent and last year yielded $1,795,514 in license fees.

County Theater Group Will Meet Tuesday

The Columbiana County Little Theater Group will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Lepper Library in Lisbon, Walter Taylor, acting chairman, announces.

Guest speakers will be Stan Killingsworth and Ted Kromer of the Warren Trumbull New Theater who will talk on the problems of organizing little theater groups and show slides of some of their productions.

All persons interested in any phase of little theater work are invited.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECAST

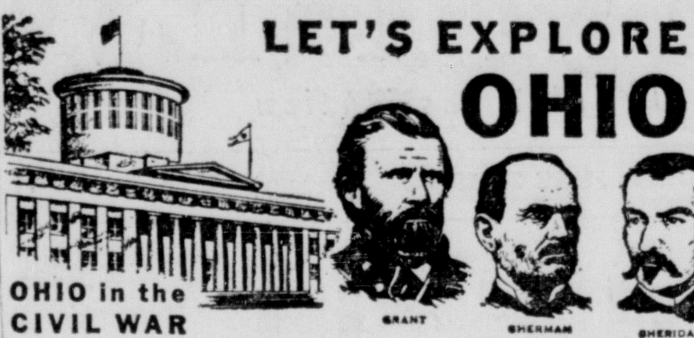

Temperatures expected to average near normal. Normal high 81 north to 84 south, normal low 59-63. A little warmer Tuesday and Wednesday, then a little cooler Thursday and warmer again at the end of the week. Showers or scattered thundershowers likely Wednesday and Thursday.

FICTION

"The Disinherited" by Michael del Castillo. Three young men from diverse backgrounds become involved in the Spanish Civil War. All become Communists, face disillusionment, despair. The author speaks again, as he did in "Child of Our Time," of men destroyed by forces they may nourish, but do not understand.

"We Are the Makers of Dreams" by William Blake. A brilliant, panoramic novel set in the Europe of the thirties. Its characters are vivid, and of various political beliefs. Rene Joliet, a Parisian book-binder tells the story of his life, is love, and his many friends and acquaintances.

"An American Romance" by Hans Koningsberger. Philip comes to New York from California, arrives broke, even hungry. An old friend gives him shelter, lends him money. The romance of the title comes soon afterwards.

"The Country Girls" by Edna O'Brien. Three Irish country girls and how they get themselves from school, their descent from Dublin and meet men of sophistication for the first time. Los of fun, and shows Ireland as it really is.

"The Hunt for Richard Thorne" by Jerrard Tickell. Richard was twelve and disappeared from his home in a small town in Somerset, England. His sister sets out to find him, meets one of the London reporters sent to cover the story of the disappearance, and he chase is on. Good suspense.

"Fear the Light" by E. X. Ferrars. When old Mrs. Robertson died, the police thought it was an accidental death, but very soon the people who had suspected murder were themselves in the grim light of suspicion. A Crime Club book.

"In the Absence of Magic" by Ernst Pawel is an adult novel of ideas. Mr. Pawel has pitted a passive man of integrity against an active man of ruthless egotism and so fashioned a morality play in modern dress. Torn between the two is a charming girl of sixteen.

"A Choice of Heaven" by J. M. Scott. A thrilling adventure tale about two men ready to rush everything to gain a Shangri-la that most men would hardly dare to dream of. The setting is a remote and fascinating corner of the world.

"The Unknown Ajax" by George Hebert. Lord Carracont's difficulties with a grandson whom he has not seen until he is a grown man — and whom he must train to be his heir make gay light reading.

"The Land Beyond the Tempest" by Drayton Mayrant. Based on the same events as Shakespeare's "The Tempest," this is an action-filled tale of danger and hardship, of courage and endurance and of a love that outlived misunderstanding, separation and despair.

"Silver Answer" by Marian Castle. The Colorado boom towns and Denver in the 1890s are the colorful, crowded backdrop to the dramatic story of a spirited, lovely woman and her struggle to preserve her happy marriage to a courageous young minister.

Industry economists are predicting an import total of about four million tons for the year, a drop of 400,000 tons below last year.

E. Palestine Council Faces Sewage Problem

EAST PALESTINE — A plan to curb downtown water from running into sanitary sewers will be introduced at Council's meeting tonight by service director George McGuckin.

The measure was deemed necessary after recent heavy rains overtaxed the capacity of the sewage plant.

The second reading of a bill to extend Daylight Saving Time through October also will be heard.

Council will take a two-month recess after tonight's meeting, resuming sessions in September.

ELECTED PRESIDENT

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Robert Kepler of Ohio State was elected president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Golf Coaches' Association Sunday night.

Recalled Grand Jury In Session Today

LISBON — Columbiana County's recalled April Grand Jury convened this morning for what Prosecutor G. William Brokaw expects to be a one-day session.

The 15-member panel will hear 18 witnesses in 10 cases involving 12 defendants.

The jury consists of Anthony B. H. of Salem, foreman; Harold H. Harmon, Dwight Grafy, Lester Shinn and Samuel R. Moore of Salem; Howard Diddle, Victor M. Dorrell and Joan H. Wright of East Liverpool; J. Ralph Fulton and Frank H. Leyda of Wellsville.

Perry Halverstadt of Lisbon, Jennie Conser of Hanoverton; Leona Rudibaugh of Rogers; Edward Flynn of East Palestine and Amos Campbell of Columbiana.

Lions Installation Scheduled For Tuesday

Charles Leach, newly-elected president, and other officers will be installed when the Salem Lions Club holds its annual installation dinner party Tuesday evening at the Valley Golf Club.

Mr. Leach will succeed Donald Matthews.

How to Fight That Silent Enemy of Workshop Tools

The best tools money can buy will be less than efficient once they've acquired a coat of rust.
Quality itself is no protection, although the better finishes on good tools will protect them longer. But enough time in a damp basement and no protection and eventually they will all rust.

Store tools in a dry place.
Handle with dry hands. Coat tools with a substance that will retard rust.

IF YOUR BASEMENT is damp
you must be extra careful. Open windows in dry weather. Use chemical or electric dehumidifiers. Make certain drier is properly vented. If laundry is hung in basement, provide plenty of ventilation.

While special rust removers are available, you can get by easily with materials you probably have on hand. Some very fine steel wool or emery cloth, light lubricating oil, wax or paraffin or petroleum jelly are some of them.

Keep tools clean and dry, especially before storing them away. Fine emery cloth or steel wool will remove rust spots.
Some light machine oil will help.

SAW BLADES SHOULD be cleaned of pitch. Use turpentine, then coat blade with thin coat of lubricating oil, or petroleum jelly.

Saw tables and other large,
metal working surfaces can be coated with paste wax or paraffin. Rub it in well and it won't come off on other materials.

Paste wax is an excellent protection for the base of a plane.

Rub a little oil on the blade.
Oil moving parts, not only for working as well.

Drill bits can be dipped in a jar of petroleum jelly for easy rust proofing.

Every metal part should be coated in some way.

While you're at it, rub a little linseed oil on wooden handles for longer life.

HEAVY COATS OF RUST due to neglect may need something stronger than the above remedies. Use the oven cleaning compound your wife uses.

Once free of rust a tool should be coated.

Some dust is bound to cling to oil coated tools. Clean with turpentine or kerosene before using.
Silica gel or other moisture drawers and tool boxes will go a long way in preventing rust.
Some old timers use a lump of charcoal to take up moisture.

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: I understand there are fuses on the market that do not have to be thrown away when they burn out. My hardware dealer says he knows nothing about them. Can you tell me whether there are such fuses?

ANSWER: Your hardware dealer may or may not have the kind of fuses you probably mean, but even if he did, he might be a bit confused by your description of them. The reason why this type of fuse does not have to be thrown away is that it does not burn out. Instead, when there is a short circuit or an overload,
a break occurs inside the fuse,
much as with a circuit breaker.
With the fuse, you push a button and the break is reset. With a circuit breaker, you operate a switch for the resetting. Thus, the gadget you are talking about is closer to a circuit breaker than it is to a fuse. But whatever you choose to call it, it probably can be obtained easily by your dealer
if he does not already have it.
It is important, no matter what kind of fuse or circuit breaker you use, to find out what caused the trouble in the first place.

QUESTION: I have heard that squeaks in wooden floors can be effectively treated with talcum powder. Is this true?

ANSWER: Only to a degree. If the squeaks are minor, they sometimes can be silenced by sprinkling powder between the seams at the points where the noise occurs. But this is only a temporary measure. After a time, the squeaks return.

Insulation Is Increasingly Important Building Material

Things like air conditioning, electric heating, higher heating fuel prices—and housing developments built on meadows without benefit of shade trees—have made insulation an increasingly important home building material.

But confusion about insulation has gone hand-in-hand with its growth in importance. The home owner, as well as the family having a house built, has been faced with the problem of deciding what kind of material his house and climate require.

He has had to come up with decisions on such matters as thickness in walls, ceilings and floors, related to whether his home is air conditioned and heated electrically or just plain heated.

ALL THIS SEEMED—and quite literally was—a job for a graduate engineer. Now at least one segment of the industry has come up with a solution. The mineral wool industry has agreed to label all batts and blankets for home insulation with an "R" number.

The "R" stands for resistance to the passage of heat, and the higher the "R" number the better the insulation. This simply means that all mineral wool insulations, regardless of thickness, foil surface or whatever, will do the same job of heat-topping if they have the same "R" number. When the numbers are different, the more effective insulation will have a higher "R" number.

THIS REMINDS US THAT we began a campaign many years ago to get the manufacturers of sandpaper to stop labeling their different grades with confusing fig-

Communities Require Basement Safety

Many communities have added a requirement to their building codes specifying that all new homes must contain an exit from the basement to the backyard.
One reason for this ruling is that it provides for a safe way out of the basement in the case of an emergency, and also makes the basement more suitable as a storage area.

Man architects specify an outdoor exit from the basement to the yard that is 48 inches wide, making this opening the widest in the house. With such a wide doorway, the storage of bulky items used in or out of the house is greatly facilitated. Even a 48-inch wide opening can be protected from the elements by a Bilco metal hatchway installed over the steps to the grade.

Why Freedom For This Killer?

It is difficult to understand the maudlin sympathy that crops up in some quarters for the worst kind of criminals.

Gov. DiSalle wants Ohio to eliminate the death penalty for murder. Yet he is taking away one of his best arguments by action such as his move last week commuting the first degree murder conviction of a Canton policeman's slayer to second degree murder, making the killer eligible for parole.

Gov. DiSalle has argued that imprisonment alone is enough of a deterrent to murder. Those in favor of retaining Ohio's traditional capital punishment argue that the threat of the death penalty will not eliminate all murder but it at least tends to curb murder planned by professional criminals. And they are fearful that governors, like Mr. DiSalle, will free killers who should not be freed.

THE CANTON MURDER was one of the most brutal, cowardly killings on record here. On the early morning of June 14, 1928, a 24-year-old man named Clarence Shamblin masked himself and with a loaded gun held up a filling station. He took $31.20 from the cash register.

Patrolman Joseph Lauer, 32, pursued the robber in a cruiser. He found Shamblin a few blocks away, jumped out of his cruiser, pointed his revolver at Shamblin and demanded his surrender. Shamblin begged the policeman, in full uniform visible under a street light, "Don't shoot, I haven't got a gun."

Patrolman Lauer lowered his revolver and Shamblin whipped out a .38-caliber revolver and fired four bullets into the policeman. It was an open-and-shut case against Shamblin. He held up the filling station with a loaded gun. The mask and the $31.20 loot were found in his pockets. The jury which heard the case deliberated nearly four hours —not as to whether Shamblin was guilty, but as to whether he should be sent to the electric chair.

The jury recommended mercy which, under Ohio law then as now, meant life in prison "without hope of pardon or parole." It was with the latter assurance that a majority of the jurors persuaded the others to recommend mercy.

The late Henry W. Harter Jr., one of Stark County's most highly respected prosecutors and later a common pleas judge, was prosecutor in the case. He wrote at the time to Ohio's Pardon and Parole Commission recommending that Shamblin never be considered for parole.

IN VIEW of the facts in the case, it is most difficult to understand why Gov. DiSalle would think if reducing the sentence against Shamblin so that it will be possible for him to win a parole.

The governor is circumventing the intent of the Legislature and of the jury which stipulated that such a crime should make life imprisonment mandatory — "without hope of pardon or parole."

He is exhibiting sympathy for a criminal who went out armed and prepared to kill, if necessary, to carry out his crime.

He is forgetting the widow and two young children left to make their own way after the patrolman was slain.

He is forgetting the millions of law-abiding Ohioans who must depend on the law and its enforcement to protect their lives and property.

It is exactly this type of maudlin sympathy for killers who deserve no sympathy that should make Ohioans afraid to take away a jury's power to sentence a murderer to death.

Congress Goes Spending Again

Congress is behaving entirely in character as it pushes through the bill to give postal and other federal employees to raise calculated to cost 600 million dollars a year.

As usual, the arguments to support a postal pay increase inspired a decision to extend the boost to a million other workers for fear the latter would be resentful at the polls, even though most proposals for increasing the mailmen's pay are designed to bring them into line with other civil service scales.

But this is not to argue that the federal employees, including the postal workers, do not deserve a raise. Our complaint is that Congress simultaneously is ignoring the administration's request for an increase in postal rates.

There are two aspects to this.

One is that the Post Office Department has operated for years at a deficit, and one of the reasons is that periodic pay raises are not matched with increases in rates to provide the revenue.

The second is that President Eisenhower pointed out early in this session that a two-billion-dollar surplus could be applied next year to the soaring national debt if, among other things, Congress raised postal rates to take that red drain off the budget.

But congressmen are noted for taking the short-range view of things, especially when an election falls between the current session and the next one.

Passing a federal pay increase may be fair to the million and a half employees, but passing it without simultaneous action to provide at least a part of the additional money needed is unfair to many millions of taxpayers.

Why Taxpayers Get Cynical

Charges of waste of public funds through a variety of means are flying fast in Washington these days, a not unusual situation in any year, a common occurrence in an election year. And those politicians who wonder why the public so often views them with disdain might take a look at themselves in the process.

Now we all know there is waste in government. Bureaucracy breeds it and a certain amount of it may be considered to be the price paid by a people to govern themselves.

But there is no way to know precisely what that amount should be and as taxpayers we do not want knowingly to condone waste of our money. Therefore we welcome all sincere efforts to expose and correct it.

But it is often pretty hard for the back-home taxpayer to know when the efforts are sincere and when they are not. So many of the charges and counter-charges appear to be petty, so many are later proved to be exaggerated, so many contain misrepresentations and misinformation that it is difficult, if not impossible, to tell who is on the right track and who is spending off on a tangent that will lead us nowhere.

Frequently those who fling the charges have been or will be proved to be guilty themselves, which creates the distinct impression among taxpayers that the people in Washington are helping each other throw up a smoke screen that covers everybody's sins.

At the same time, there is the risk that some dedicated people and worthy projects may get hurt, which means that it sometimes looks to the taxpayer as though the live wood is pruned out and the dead wood just keeps on rotting.

The next step in the taxpayers' mental process is apt to be that they cannot depend on anybody in Washington and there is thus no cure for the wasteful conditions they know exist. This is where the public cynicism about politicians sets in.

When the politicians get concerned about the public attitude on politics, they ought to look under their own noses before trying to see beyond.

It isn't what the average husband says that counts—it's his wife's reply.

A marathon runner has to have a lot of wind, like the hole-in-one golfer.

By H. I. Phillips

If my dogs hold out and the newspapermen don't have weak ankles," said Harry.

When the critic asked Harry why he didn't take up golf, since he liked walking so much, the ex-President replied, "I get a kick out of swinging clubs other ways."

HIS GRANDPA was a great distributor of 10-cent pieces, but we'd hate to see Dick Nixon ask Nelson Rockefeller, "Mister, can you spare a dime?"

National income amounts to $2,300 per person, research board says. With that much money you can keep the car in gas, have a sirloin twice a week and afford to have the carburetor adjusted.

There's no end to inflation. Now it has upped price of seeing stars. Planetarium has jumped admissions. Big Dipper, Venus, Milky Way and Jupiter are not in short supply and nobody has cornered Saturn but inflation is inflation and it was bound to reach the skies.

"Dollarwise, It's Far More Practical Without The Boat"

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

While the Democratic party has been preparing to nominate a candidate, labor's political leaders have been training thousands of activists in a series of two-day mobile training schools to elect that candidate — and to attempt to defeat at least 14 "unfriendly" senators (x).

Some would call this a purge list. The roving labor institute for political action was the most modern since the ballot was contrived. The briefings were built around more professional motion pictures than the film festival at Cannes.

Through these political sprucing courses which covered the continental United States — and such points west as Hawaii and Alaska, — went 6,500 regional labor officials.

They were getting their primary training while the nation was watching the big primary shows — and they will be the avant garde of the campaign later this year to smash the Republican party.

Church Recruiter

By RUTH WOELLNER

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — That passenger you're apt to see now and then riding in a Genesee County sheriff's car is not a habitual criminal.

He is the Rev. Carl Hatch, associate pastor of the Flint Baptist Temple, answering the police calls with his friend, Deputy Sheriff George W. Boulter.

The Rev. Mr. Hatch has brought many persons into church as a direct result of the spot calls he has made on scenes of drunkenness, larceny and family squabbles.

Three youths arrested for car larceny were urged by the Boulter-Hatch team to attend church. All three now show up regularly for services and one is thinking of studying for the ministry.

About half of the 15 young people planning to enter the ministry have had dealings with the police," says the young pastor.

The Flint Baptist Temple has 1,100 members and adult Sunday School regulars. Hundreds have been added to the list as a result of the sheriff-pastor setup.

"But we're not out to fill our church pews," insists the Rev. Mr. Hatch. "We're trying to keep the people out of jail."

One regular churchgoer is a recovered alcoholic who hit the bottle for 25 years before he received counseling from the minister.

Not all the case histories have had happy endings.

One man picked up on the police beat came to church for a while but today he's in prison.

Thoughts

And every work that he undertook in the service of the house of God, and in accordance with the law and the commandments, seeking his God, he did with all his heart and prospered. — Chron. 31:21.

Every task, however simple,

Sets the soul that does it, free;

Every deed of love and mercy Done to man, is done to me.

—Henry Van Dyke.

All but one of the political action films were produced by Guy Nunn, media and communications expert of Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers.

THE LONE FILM came from the National Assn. of Manufacturers. It happened one afternoon not too long ago.

One of labor's top political leaders telephoned the NAM. He wanted to know how much the businessmen's association wanted for its do-it-yourself political action kit.

The NAM spokesman said $300, but take it with our compliments. The labor man said he wanted nothing from the NAM — especially their compliments. So the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE) — which will make the national headlines many a day during the presidential campaign — sent along a check for $300.

In the kit was a "movie" called "Labor Conflict." In it are some picket line melees and some mighty grim pictures of Walter Reuther and colleagues.

The COPE instructors showed it to their regional people as a hint of what might be thrown at them during the fall election drive.

The labor political activists saw it right through to the end of the "courses."

Actually the NAM political section junked the picture. It was replaced by what an NAM spokesman described as the Christophers' film, "Knock On Any Door."

This is a neutral study of precinct politics. As for labor's own "movies," they were more detailed. These are six 15-minute films — which can be broadcast as well as shown in union halls.

They dramatically deal with such topics as the Forand aid-to-the-aged bill, the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act, taxes and social security.

The use of these films and the briefing sessions in COPE's 15 two-day conferences are the most unusual campaigning activity yet developed.

THESE PARLEYS began Feb. 13 in Savannah, Ga. They wound up during mid-May in Portland, Ore.

SIDE GLANCES

Labor leaders believe their most successful conference was held in Philadelphia. It was run during the week — and drew 1,281, according to COPE's records. This "stop over" brought out union officials from the Middle Atlantic states.

COPE's practice was to put its two top political directors, Jim McDewitt and Al Barkin, in a city. First they would run a general session on the opening morning.

That afternoon and the following morning the delegates were shifted into four discussion groups. Each group, in turn, was lectured on four topics.

These groups were run in 75-minute classes. Here's where the visual "education" came in.

During the tax session, for example, the delegates would see the Guy Nunn film attacking the tax policies of the government.

During the discussion on welfare, there would be the film on the Forand bill. These made the arguments which the regional leaders were to take back to their home areas.

Then they would brief their own subordinates in a sort of political chain reaction.

After these detailed sessions, the conference ended with another mass general review parley. Thus every important politically active labor official from Coney Island to Waikiki Beach knows just what is expected of him and how he should attempt to fulfill his political mission.

This is more than any other political bloc can boast.

Japan's Tragedy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Will America Let It Be Her Tragedy?

Poor Japan! Twenty years ago her militarists dragged the nation into war and they lost an empire. Today the "left wing," inspired by Moscow, has turned Japan toward communism and a loss of the freedoms that democracy has given the Japanese people since World War I.

Japan's tragedy—its probable deterioration now on the economic side as it faces more and more trade barriers in the West—far overshadows the impact of the events of the last few days on American affairs.

It is of relatively little consequence, except to anti-administration politicians here, whether America's so-called "prestige" in the Far East is temporarily injured because the Japanese government itself was compelled by the mobs to cancel President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

After all, America's prestige doesn't depend on Japanese mobs. There can be no loss of prestige for the United States just because communism buys a mob.

It is far more serious that the friendly relations between the United States and Japan have been damaged by the Japanese themselves.

It is no mystery why the Communists have made progress with their infiltration of Japan. They had something to work on—a basic antagonism to the United States growing out of the dropping of two atomic bombs in the last war.

This, together with the years of humiliation afterward because of American military occupation, was bound sooner or later to make itself felt in popular opinion.

History tells us that France, for many decades after the War of 1870, didn't forgive Germany for the loss of Alsace-Lorraine and that deep-seated resentments often emerge as a negative influence on friendly relations long after a war has ended.

THE UNITED STATES has never officially regretted its dropping of the atomic bomb, because of the feeling that the surprise attack on Pearl Harbor was a dastardly business.

Nevertheless, the building of friendship with Japan by the United States has been one of the challenging problems of the post-war era. In fact, it is more important today than ever before that the West should have strong military allies in the Far East.

Moscow on its part already has possession of Red China, which has been of considerable help to the Communist cause in infiltrating Korea, harassing the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa and trying to undermine the governments of the Philippines and of other free countries in southeast Asia.

What shall America do about it? The Communists have moved in not only in the Far East but in Latin America, especially Cuba, next door to the United States.

Likewise, the Communists have wrought their mischief in the Middle East and everywhere in Africa, including South Africa, where race rioting has been stimulated after a long period of stability in race relations.

Even in the United States, "demonstrations" in the South and lunch-counter "sit-ins" have been attributed to the Communists by prominent persons, including former President Harry Truman.

TODAY'S DILEMMA is largely due to the appeasement tactics of the "left wing" in the United States as well as in Britain and France.

It was the "left wing" that forced President Eisenhower into summit conferences, and that maligned John Foster Dulles, who originally opposed the idea.

It was the "left wing" which insisted that Khrushchev's "peaceful co-existence" should be welcomed.

It is the "left wing" that is constantly pushing for recognition of Red China, which would be a death blow to American military strength in the Far East.

The Democratic speakers are having a field day in speeches about the events abroad. Sniping from the Democrats on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee continues.

One would think President Eisenhower had torpedoed his own journey to Japan, that the Communists had nothing to do with it — judging by the criticism about a lack of "planning" by the United States.

No Democratic administration could do any different "planning" where Communist evil is being perpetrated.

Only two courses of action are available now to either a Republican or a Democratic administration. One is to wield a "big stick" and take a chance on getting into another world war. Neither political party would take such a risk.

THE ALTERNATIVE policy is to "fight fire with fire" — that is, to spend more money for bigger and better propaganda, more money on the foreign-aid program to help allied nations to remain stable in their economy and more money for national defense so as to ward off surprise attack.

Then, if the so-called liberals will stop pressing for deals with Khrushchev and his kind, stop urging recognition of Red China and stop feeding roaganda to the Russians about America's alleged weaknesses, there's a chance — Not for the Republican or Democratic parties as such, but for the American people — to win the cold war.

This and That

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If your child wound up the school year with low grades, it might console him to know that George Washington was a shaky spell—he always spelled the color blue as blew. And Napoleon's handwriting was so illegible his letters sometimes were mistaken for battle maps.

Thomas A. Edison went only three months to a grammar school. The other children called him dunce, and his teacher said he was too addled to learn. But who today remembers any of those children or the name of that teacher?

A survey showed that most doctors don't get a medical checkup themselves as often as do their patients. Maybe they just eat an apple a day.

Prosperity note: About 13.5 per cent of all American families now own two or more cars.

Our quotable notables: "Every man has a right to utter what he thinks truth," said Samuel Johnson, "and every other man has a right to knock him down for it."

Here's one of the ironies of history: President Eisenhower's mother once spanked him because he said he wanted to grow up to be a soldier.

Odd legislation: A reader informs us that it's illegal to drive a car in Oregon with your shoes off. And your punishment is a dose of castor oil if you are caught stealing fruit in Yuma, Ariz.

In Charleston, W. Va., you mustn't burn down your house unless you first remove the roof.

The rifleman: Pioneer woodsman Daniel Boone usually carried a copy of "Gulliver's Travels" along when he was hunting or fighting Indians.

Gag of the week: Comics Phil Ford and Mimi Hines say they know a gypsy fortuneteller who had to quit the business because her mind kept wandering.

Socrates was a poor husband but a perfect philosopher. When asked why he married—his wife constantly nagged—he is said to have replied: "My aim in life is to get on well with people. I chose Janthippe because I knew if I could get on well with her, I could get along with anyone."

Quick! Do you know what a "Kiss-me-quick" is? It is the ringlet of hair a girl wears in front of her ear.

It was Franklin D. Roosevelt who observed, "A radical is a man with both feet firmly planted in the air."

Once Over

Harry Truman has written a book. It has a pedestrian style, of course. It was launched in a publicity sense by one of Harry's New York breakfast time walks with the press. This made it the first book review in which a critic could bow out because his feet hurt.

Harry would rather be a writer than be President and that's what he has to settle for now. Our book critic, who has recovered from fallen arches and is a good around-the-block-on-heel-and-toe man, went along on the book launching.

"When do you do your writing?" he asked.

"Between walks," replied Harry.

"Do you think hiking improves your literary work?" our men asked.

"My publishers say it's the other way around," was the reply.

"How long do you write at a stretch?" was next query.

I sometimes write six or eight blocks at a time," laughed Harry.

"Do you have any trouble writing?" asked the critic.

"Only when I turn corners to fast," was the answer.

The critic asked if he did any of his book work nights. "Who can get reporters to walk around the block with me nights?" was the reply.

"How many copies do you hope to sell?" critic inquired.

"My publishers say it could be a best seller

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

Doctor Suggests Self-Prevention of Cancer

We've all become so impressed with global conferences, summit meetings, international study teams, governmental committees and fund-raising drives for the Prevention of Baldness or the Encouragement of Beard - Growing, we may soon forget how to do very much for ourselves. Just now spokesmen for research institutes and certain pharmaceutical manufacturers are raising our hopes for cancer "cures" with press releases that speak of an approaching "breakthrough" of the near availability of anticancer virus vaccines, of the discovery of new drugs with amazing anticancer powers, and of other promising avenues of approach soon to be revealed.

Reading and hearing about these upcoming "miracles," John and Jane Doe can hardly be blamed if they decide that their own attempts to protect themselves and their loved ones from the cruelest of diseases are really not worth the effort.

AT RISK of being called a defeatist, I must report that I can see no immediate signs of a breakthrough, of a preventive vaccine or of an anticancer drug that will do more than prolong the life of the cancer victim.

But I am increasingly impressed each day with what each of us can do for ourselves if only we will put to proper use the information we already possess.

HERE ARE just a few of the ways that you, as a solo performer can protect yourself and your loved ones from the threats of malignancy:

1. Try to avoid exposure to radiation — even diagnostic X-rays — until the family is complete. In the past 20 years, there has been an alarming increase in the incidence of childhood leukemia. This increase appears to be related to increased parental exposure to radiation, especially of the mother just before or after conception, and to childhood exposures in the early months and years of life.

2. Have the male child circumcized before he's a month old. You may save your future daughter-in-law from developing a womb cancer.

3. Don't smoke and try to make your husband stop.

MANY DOCTORS have been deeply impressed by the increase in cancer incidence.

Mrs. Robert Paul McMurray

Columbiana Church Is Scene Of Reese-McMurray Wedding

The marriage of Miss Rebecca Jane Reese and Robert Paul McMurray took place Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Church of Columbiana. The Rev. W. S. Longworth officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Reese of 127 Union St., Columbiana, are the bride's parents, while the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. McMurray of New Springfield.

Ferns and palms banked the altar, which was enhanced by arrangements of large white chrysanthemums and white gladioli combined with baby's breath.

Mrs. Lee Hoover of Columbiana sang "I Love You Truly," "Because," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Robert Cline of Columbiana was organist.

Attractively - Gowned

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her all white floor length gown of Chantilly lace over net and satin was styled with a chapel train and long sleeves. The round neck of the bodice was accented by seed pearls and sequins. The pearl necklace she wore was a gift from the bridegroom. Her silk illusion veil was attached to a crown of sequins and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible, another gift from the bridegroom. Her wedding bouquet contained a white orchid on a background of seed pearls and stephanotis, showered with stephanotis tied with lovers knots.

Miss Betty Rhodes was maid of honor. She wore a light blue chiffon gown over net and taffeta with a blue dior bow headpiece and carried a cascade bouquet of pink gladioli and white daisies with white streamers.

Miss Elizabeth McMurray, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Judith Jessop were bridesmaids. The blue gowns were complemented with white Dior bow-headpieces and carried bouquets of pink gladioli and white daisies.

Miss Gwendolyn McMurray, a niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Mulch-Dalrymple Nuptials Held In Columbiana Church

Miss Alta Mae Mulch of Columbiana and William Dalrymple of Washingtonville exchanged their marriage vows and wedding rings Sunday afternoon before the altar of Jerusalem Lutheran Church in Columbiana.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Jessie Mulch of Columbiana and the late Fred Mulch. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dalrymple.

The Rev. A. A. Anderson performed the ceremony. The altar was flanked by a pair of emerald palms surrounded by Oregon ferns. The altar vases featured white gladioli, mums and pom-poms.

David Ridel of Hubbard was soloist. His selections were "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me," "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer." He was accompanied by Miss Ethel Esterly of Columbiana.

Given in marriage by her brother, Floyd Mulch, the bride was attired in a gown of chantilly lace and silk organza. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a square scalloped neckline and bracelet-length sleeves. The ballerina-length bouffant skirt of organza was accented with a velvet bow.

Her headpiece was a circle veil attached to a Dior bow of silk organza. She carried a cascade bouquet of fresh carnations, mums, pink sweetheart roses and Baker fern.

Miss Laura Metzler was Miss Mulch's only attendant. She chose a ballerina-length gown of pale blue lace and chiffon, designed with a high neckline and bracelet-length sleeves. She wore a Dior bow of blue silk organza with a short circle veil. Her bouquet was

She wore a light blue chiffon dress over taffeta and carried petals in a basket that was decorated with daisies and Baker fern. Terrence Leonard, a nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Charles McMurray, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man. James Edward McMurray, brother of the bridegroom, and Everett J. Reese Jr., a brother of the bride, ushered.

The brides mother wore a green floral print tunic with white accessories and a corsage of pink gladioli. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue dress with a corsage of pink gladioli.

Reception Is Held

A reception followed in the church dining room. The five-tiered cake was decorated with light blue roses, carrying out the color theme of the wedding. A bride and bridegroom ornament topped the cake.

Mrs. Dale McMurray and Mrs. Joe McMurray, sisters-in-law of the bridegroom, served the cake. Miss Shirley Lash, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Thomas McMurray, aunt of the bridegroom, poured.

Miss Patricia Williamson registered the 300 guests from Ellwood City, New Castle, Beaver Falls, Enon Valley, Pa., and Columbiana, Hubbard, Youngstown, North Lima, East Palestine, New Springfield, and Michigan and West Virginia.

The bride was graduated from Columbiana High School. She is employed by the Columbiana Boiler Co. as a stenographer. Her husband, a graduate of Springfield Township High School, is employed by the East Ohio Gas Co. of Youngstown.

The couple will travel to the New England States on their honeymoon trip. For her going away outfit, the bride chose a white eyelet sheath with red accessories and wore the white orchid from her wedding bouquet.

When the newlyweds return from New England, they will reside at 3 N. Main st., Columbiana.

The Social Notebook

MISS MARIE ENGLERT of 678 Park Ave. was honored by office associates of The Salem News at a farewell dinner party Thursday night at Park View House in Canfield.

Garden flowers decorated the dinner tables which were laid with white and gold linen cloths. Miss Englert received a shower of personal gifts.

Game honors went to Miss Englert, Mrs. Roger Tuel, Mrs. Charles Huff, in scrabble; Mrs. John Cosgrove, Mrs. Ethel Tolson, Miss Eleanor Coppersmith and Mrs. Betsy Batcha, "500;" Miss Pamela Chentow, Mrs. Paul Sedor, Mrs. Ephra Langford and Mrs. Michael Schuller, bridge; and Mrs. James Schuller, Mrs. Jack Ferrier, Mrs. Betty Abblett and Miss Joan Shively, "Good Night Ladies."

Miss Englert will be leaving soon for St. Petersburg, Fla., where she has been accepted as a student in training at the School of Medical Technology at St. Anthony's Hospital.

THE CHATTERETTES Club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Earl Daley of Pine Lake Road.

Mrs. Bruce Galbreath of Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. George Rohrer were guests.

Honors in the card games were shared by Mrs. Robert Jackson, Mrs. Robert Stille and Mrs. Don Wutrick.

Mrs. Sam Greenwalt was honored with a surprise baby shower. Plans were made for a dinner and theater party for July 1.

Lunch was served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Rohrer and Mrs. Bruce Behner. The July 19 meeting will be in the Behner home on Goshen Center Road.

EIGHT MEMBERS of the local Phoebe Frances Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, attended the recent Flag Day luncheon and program sponsored by the East Liverpool Chapter. Other chapters present were from Lisbon and Wellsville.

The speaker was Robert Longworth, state representative and superintendent of Carroll County schools. He talked on the subject, "For This We Live in America."

Mrs. James Smith of Wellsville sang several selections, accompanied by Mrs. Louis Lawton, also of Wellsville.

Attending from Salem were Mrs. Donald Reichert, Mrs. W. H. Van Skiver, Mrs. Joseph Boone, Mrs. Arch Wentz, Mrs. E. E. Logue, Mrs. Clyde Dole, Mrs. William Corso and Mrs. Jack Harnstrom.

The 1961 Flag Day observance for the four chapters will be in Wellsville.

MRS. HAROLD HARRIS of 584 Park Ave. was hostess to the Skat-R Club Thursday evening.

Card prizes went to Mrs. Sadie Doyle, Mrs. John Stoita, Mrs. Edmon Ackelson and Mrs. Thelma Murphy.

The birthday anniversary of Mrs. Sam Lockhart was celebrated. Members of the club presented her a gift.

The next meeting is July 21 with a coverdish dinner at Mrs. Leonard Perkin's cottage at Guilford Lake.

A BRUNCH and miscellaneous shower was given Thursday for Miss Sally Moore, bride-elect of Robert W. Howard, at the home of Mrs. Robert Hill of Jefferson St.

Seven former classmates of the honoree were in attendance.

Visiting was the pastime, after which the hostess served refreshments. The table was centered with a sprinkling can filled with orange blossoms, with swan favors.

The couple will be married July 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Church.

Dorothy Esenwein Is Bride Of Fred William Vosloh

Mr. and Mrs. Fred William Vosloh III are honeymooning in the Pocono Mountains following their marriage Saturday afternoon in the East Fairfield Methodist Church.

Mrs. Vosloh is the former Dorothy Irene Esenwein, daughter of Mrs. Merrill Esenwein of New Waterford and the late Mr. Esenwein. Mr. Vosloh is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Vosloh of Miami Springs, Fla.

Miss Eileen Grim of Columbiana presented a medley of organ selections.

Lavern Esenwein escorted his sister to the altar which was banked with palms, shefflera and bouquets of red roses. Twin seven-branch candelabra lighted the setting.

The bride designed and made her gown of pale ivory silk organza over taffeta. Alecon lace appliques highlighted the modified V-neckline and were repeated on the short sleeves and at the waistline which tapered to a small puffed bow at the back. The skirt featured a chapel-length train.

Silk organza petals outlined in seed pearls formed her headpiece which held her fingertip silk illusion veil. The white roses in her wedding bouquet were from the same bush which provided the roses for her mother's wedding bouquet 25 years ago.

Dunn to Begin Work Toward Master's

Organist and pianist Wayne Dunn a music instructor at the Salem Bible Institute, will leave next week for the Cleveland Institute of Music, where he will begin work toward his master's degree.

Dunn, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Willard Dunn, president and assistant of the Bible Institute, recently finished a record of gospel and religious music, "Songs of Assurance," which has been released by RCA.

The record features organ and piano solos and combination numbers engineered by means of a tape recorder.

Dunn has studied the piano since he was five and the organ since he was 15.

He graduated last year from Mount Union College with a bachelor of arts degree in music. Since then he has earned 11 hours post-graduate credit.

Before attending Mount, he spent one year at Eastern Pilgrim College, Allentown, Pa. He has done part-time teaching at the Bible Institute for four years.

Johansson Favored Over Patterson In Tonight's Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Having proven there was more might than myth to his "thunder and lightning" right, heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson is favored to beat Floyd Patterson again in their return 15-round title fight at the Polo Grounds tonight.

A year ago, the handsome, dimpled Swede was a 5-1 underdog, scoffed at for his unique, carefree training methods, and for his absolute faith in his big right-hand wallop.

Ike

elections naming a new slate of legislators.

"Yours is a great trust," Eisenhower said. "You and those new members who will soon be gathering here in the next Assembly have the opportunity and heavy responsibility to show that human freedom and advancement of the people's welfare thrive even in the shadow of communist aggression."

Earlier, Eisenhower urged restless Korean students, who sparked the April revolt, to keep faith with democracy. He asked one of the student leaders, Lee Tae-up, 21, to breakfast with him and seven other Korean leaders.

Eisenhower chatted extensively with Lee about the students' dedication to democracy. He also talked at length with one of Rhee's longtime foes, former Vice President John M. Chang.

Chang, a leading prospect for the prime minister's job after the election, handed Eisenhower a sealed envelope giving his views on how to move South Korea toward real democracy.

Eisenhower promised the legislators the United States would stand squarely beside South Korea against any new Red aggression and would continue to aid in economic development.

His words, on the eve of the 10th anniversary of the start of the Korean war, roused a mighty roar of cheers from the lawmakers.

"You have reason today to be confident that your military forces, together with those of your friends and allies, will permit no intrusion across the borders of free Korea," the President said.

Speaker Kwak Sang-hoon, in presenting the President of the Assembly, hailed him as "the greatest leader and symbol of peace in the world."

Eisenhower began his day with an off-the-cuff speech to about 2,000 members of the American community in the embassy garden.

CAR BUMPS MAIL BOX

A "no parking" sign on N. Lincoln Ave., just north of the post office, was broken and the mail box located at the same place was knocked loose from its anchor by a car Sunday afternoon.

Driver of the car was Florence T. Beery of 1844 N. Ellsworth St. Police said she told them her foot hit the gas pedal rather than the brake when she attempted to pull her car nearer to the mail box.

This time Patterson, 25, the ex-champion, is the question mark. Can he wipe out the memory of his crushing, seven-knockdown, third-round knockout of a year ago? Will he be able to get in close for his flashing combinations without being stabbed by stinging jabs or destroyed again by a crushing right? Can he take a punch and keep going?

The betting odds are against him. Johansson, a supremely confident champion, has been made the 7-5 favorite. The odds may go even higher before they step into the ring at 9:30 p.m., EST.

Investigations, legal action, and promotional squabbles took the play away from the fighters for most of the time since their first fight last June 26. But in recent weeks the fight has stirred up tremendous, world-wide interest.

The new promotional firm of Feature Sports, Inc., anticipates a crowd of 35,000 and gross gate of $800,000 on prices ranging from $5 general admissions to the $100 ringside seats. Estimates of the advance sale range from $550,000 to $625,000.

There will be no home television but there will be a coast-to-coast radio broadcast — ABC. The fight will be shown on closed circuit television to 230 locations in 160 cities. The New York area will be blacked out.

The weather forecast, unlike last year, is highly favorable. The prediction is for generally fair and mild. In the event of a bad break in the weather forcing a postponement, the fight will be held Tuesday night.

With everything counted in, the fighters could share in the neighborhood of $350,000 to $450,000 each. Each gets 25 per cent of the gate receipts at the ball park. And there's the lucrative return from the closed circuit TV, radio and movies. It probably will take a year to figure it all out exactly.

If Patterson follows expectations and moves right in, the action should be explosive. The writer, who picked Patterson in one the last time, leans toward Johansson within seven rounds this time.

Some Eastern Airlines Pilots Return to Work

NEW YORK (AP) — Eastern Airlines reported today "the first real break" in the wildcat work stoppage by pilots that has crippled the line for more than a week.

A spokesman for the airline said all flight crews were reporting for work today at Boston and a few in New Orleans.

Reports from Eastern's office in Miami—where the stoppage by pilots started June 10—indicated no break there, the spokesman said. Eastern's big Miami installation has been virtually shut down.

The spokesman said normal operations from Boston were expected today.

The pilots reporting for work in Boston and New Orleans were men who had previously stayed away from work because of claimed "sickness" or similar reasons.

First Salem Jolts Lincoln Machine's Title Hopes 6-4

Purity, Mile Branch Also Win Contests

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

First Salem Corp. jolted the first round title hopes of Lincoln Machine in the City Class A Softball League as they upset their rivals Saturday night at Kelley Field, 6-4.

In other Class A games Saturday, Mile Branch Grange surprised Italian-American Club, 85, and Purity Dairy trampled winless H. K. Porter Co. 88.

The defeat of Lincoln Machine left Marks Landing in a position to clinch the first round championship Tuesday night if the Guilford Lake outfit can handle Carl's Tavern of Lisbon. Marks has a 7-1 record with just one game to play.

Lincoln Machine fell into a second place tie with Carl's Tavern. Both have 6-2 season marks. If Carl's should upset Marks on Tuesday, the race would be thrown into a two-way tie between these two clubs. Lincoln Machine could then make it a three-way tie for the first round title by beating the H. K. Porter Co. on Tuesday.

Hunter Nets 17 as North All-Stars Win

In a blazing final quarter, the North all-stars dumped their southern rivals 95-90 in the third annual Ohio high school North-South basketball game Saturday night.

Salem High's 5-11 guard, Dave Hunter, was the North's high point man. The Quaker star poured 17 points through the hoop.

With three minutes to go in the final period, the North's Dave Wait of Ashland sank a free throw to tie the game at 88-88, then caged a charity toss and a bucket to put his team ahead in the victory push.

The North was ahead 22-19 at the close of the first quarter, but was down 54-39 at the half and 80-64 at the end of the third session.

The winners, who outscored the South 35-10 in the final period, made 39 of 98 shots from the field. The Rebels got 36 of 102 but took a 67-49 edge in rebounds.

After Hunter's 17 points for the North, George Kirk of Marion Harding was next leading scorer with 14 markers. Wait wound up with 13.

High scorers of the night were the South team, with Salem Local's Al Thrasher hitting for 27 points and Ray Brown of Dayton Roosevelt getting 22.

Ken Kate of Canton Timken and Jerry Shacht of New Bremen were the winning coaches. Losing coaches were John Woolums of Dayton Roosevelt and Bill Hupp of Salem Local. The latter's teams won the state titles and they were named coaches of the year in their divisions.

Hunter played an outstanding floor game and caged six of eight shots from the field. He was five for six from the foul line.

Jaycee Golf Tourney Being Held Today

The Salem Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament is being held today at the Salem Golf Club.

The winner of the local tournament will be eligible to compete in the state tourney July 25, 26 at Lima.

Major League Stars

Pitching — Hoyt Wilhelm and Milt Pappas, Orioles — The pitching pair combined to hurl a double shutout over the Tigers. Wilhelm allowed only two hits in the 2-0 first game victory and Pappas permitted three in the second game 1-0 triumph.

Salem Splits Doubleheader With Midland

The Salem Merchants of the County-City Baseball League split a double-header Sunday at Midland, Pa., against the Lawrenceville, Pa. nine.

Salem won the first game 7-4, but Lawrenceville came back to take the nightcap, 6-3.

The Merchants put all their runs into two big innings to capture the opener.

Salem was trailing 2-0 when Bob Stallsmith opened the third inning with a single through the box. Woody Deitch followed with another rap up the middle, and Don Wukotich sent them both home with a long poke to left center field which went for three bases.

DICK BEALL's sacrifice fly sent Wukotich home with the run that put Salem on top 3-2.

In the seventh, an error, two walks and clutch singles by Tony Everett and Moe Meissner sent four more runs across the plate.

Meissner went all the way on the mound for Salem, scattering eight hits.

Roger Wyss, Bob Stallsmith, Don Wukotich and Tony Everett each had two hits for Salem in the first game.

In the second contest, Pitcher Don Shaw of Lawrenceville had the Salem batters swinging right through his fast ball and quick curve. Shaw fanned 10 Salem batters enroute to his seven hit, 6-3 victory.

ROGER WYSS, pitching his first game in more than a year for Salem, was sailing along with a 3-1 lead going into the last of the fifth. Wyss lost the hop from his fast ball and was touched for four straight hits and three runs in the fifth.

Meissner relieved Wyss and gave up two more runs in the sixth.

Salem had seven hits in the second game, all singles. Beall was the only Salem batter with two hits.

The Merchants, who have a 2-3 season record, will journey to Negley for a game Wednesday night. The locals will take on East Liverpool at Centennial Park next Sunday.

Youngstown Driver Wins at Canfield

Bill Forney, 1959 late model champion, crashed the victory circle for the first time this season at Canfield Speedway on Saturday night, while Jim Florian of Cleveland captured the modified finale in a field slashed to four cars by an unexpected drivers' strike.

At intermission time a group of modified drivers informed manager Charlie Findlay that they would not run unless the purse was boosted.

Findlay explained, "Since I'm paying the top purses in the tri-state area and will continue to do so, I don't see why I should increase the purse." Findlay left the door open for drivers to compete, but only four ran after the race. Findlay announced that modified cars would be discontinued at Canfield.

The schedule next week is motorcycles on Friday night and late models on Saturday.

Forney of Youngstown started in 13th position. He overhauled leader Dick Lantz of Newton Falls on the 10th lap and went on to victory.

Bliss Beats Damascus In Exhibition Game

Bliss CIO of the Class E Salem hit tove League defeated Damascus 5-3 in an exhibition game Sunday at Centennial Park.

Dave Capel won the game for Salem in the fifth inning when his home run with a man on snapped a 3-3 tie.

Capel, Bob Cook and Brian Hougher handled the pitching chores for Salem. They yielded only four hits, walked eight and struck out eight. Don Hendrick went all the way on the mound for Damascus. He gave up seven hits, walked five and struck out four.

Cook had a perfect three for three at the plate for Bliss CIO. Ray Ash and Buck Smith divided Damascus' four hits.

Body Moves

By JIMMY DEMARET

Allow as much movement of the body as is necessary in making the putting stroke rhythmic and relaxed.

As indicated in the accompanying illustration, give the wrists and hands enough freedom to accomplish the stroke without encouraging any stiffness in any part of the body. The notion that good putting is the result of a kind of practised muscular paralysis is ridiculous. I never saw a superior putter who didn't permit himself all the movement necessary to free and easy stroking.

The eyes are riveted to the ball as a means of making sure the head does not move throughout the entire stroke.

A perfectly hit-yeard anchors the activity of the whole stroke and Enough freedom.

Cadiz Tallies Two Runs In 7th To Whip Salem Legion Team

Cadiz shoved across two runs in the top of the seventh inning to snap a 1-1 tie and defeat the Salem American Legion team 3-1 in a 10th District League game Sunday at Centennial Park.

Salem hurler Don Davidson was pitched good ball but got himself in hot water in the seventh inning when he plunked the leadoff bat-

Salem Handed First Loss 15-9 In Polo

A red hot visiting Cincinnati polo club caught fire in the second half and handed Salem its first loss of the season, 15-9, Sunday at the Ellsworth Rd. Field.

After holding the Cincy club to a 5-5 tie in the first half, Salem was unable to keep up the rugged pace in the last three chukkers.

Frank Todd, who was riding the fastest thoroughbred to appear on the Salem field in a long while, rammed through seven goals for the winners.

Three long backhand slams by Salem's Lloyd Brunner found their marks and brought the fans to their feet. One of the goals was from 90 yards out.

Jim Bahr and Phil Thompson also turned in strong performances for Salem. They split the locals' other six goals.

Salem now stands 1-1 in Penn-Ohio League competition. It has a game Friday night against the Mahoning Valley Club at Poland. Salem will be home again Sunday to take on Toledo.

Salem Man Big Winner In Speedway 45 Races

Carl DeVille of Salem was the big winner in afternoon and evening kart racing programs Sunday at Speedway 45.

DeVille was the Class A winner in both the Australian Pursuit and feature races in the afternoon program. He came back to the evening to cop the Class A and B features and the Class B Australian Pursuit.

Other winners Sunday afternoon were Hume Webb of Salem, Class B Australian Pursuit; and Wayne McIntyre of Weirton, W. Va., Class C Australian Pursuit and Cass B and C features.

Mel Miller of New Cumberland, W. Va., copied the Class C Australian Pursuit and feature races in the evening. John Show of Youngstown got the checkered flag in the Class A Australian Pursuit.

The next racing program at Speedway 45 will be Thursday evening at 6:30.

Cage Group Nominates Cabas, Berryman

Coaches John Cabas of Salem and Rich Berryman of Columbus have been nominated for high offices in the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Association.

Cabas and Ken Tate of Canton Timken were nominated for second vice president of the association. Berryman and Paul Walker of Middletown were nominated for secretary-treasurer.

Elections will be by mail and the results announced at an October meeting in Columbus.

HAMILTON RACEWAY OPENS

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Hamilton Raceway opens a 42-night harness racing schedule tonight, with eight weekend stakes races planned.

This is the third year of harness racing at the track.

Officials said stakes purses totaling $16,000 are set, with the largest $2,250, for a divided pace on July 15.

Orioles, Senators Are Winners

Yanks Down Chisox 7-5, 5-3; Bosox Stun Tribe 7-1, 3-2

By The Associated Press

Nobody is predicting a New York pennant this early in the race but even the most rabid anti-Yankee rooters must admit that Casey Stengel is doing a "tree-mendus" job of managing this year, to use the Ol' Perfessor's favorite word.

While younger and more agile field leaders are getting the axe, the 70-year-old reformed dentist is perhaps doing his best job of masterminding in his 13 years at the Yankee helm. And don't forget he's won nine New York flags.

Today he has his team on top of the heap, three percentage points above Baltimore, after leading the Yankees to a pair of 7-5 and 5-3 victories over the Chicago White Sox Sunday. The twin triumphs gave the Yankees a run of seven straight over the defending champions and 11 victories in 12 games since Stengel left a sick bed to resume charge.

The Yankees needed those two victories to stay in front because Baltimore got shutout pitching from Hoyt Wilhelm and Milt Pappas to defeat Detroit twice, 2-0 and 1-0. Boston's last-place Red Sox stunned Cleveland with a 7-1 and 3-2 sweep of their double header and Washington made it three straight over Kansas City, 6-5.

Los Angeles snapped Pittsburgh's five-game winning streak, 8-6, but the Pirates retained their four-game lead in the National League as Philadelphia nipped San Francisco 21 in 11 innings.

Cincinnati took two from Chicago's Cubs 4-3 and 7-5 while St. Louis and Milwaukee split. The Cards won the opener 4-3 and the Reds took the nightcap 3-2.

Jim Coates, whose mere presence on the mound seems to inspire the Yankee hitters, turned in his eighth victory without a defeat as his mates shelled Buck

Shaw with four runs in the fifth and bombed reliever Dick Donovan with three more in the sixth of the opener. The lean right-hander has a two-year winning streak of 12 games.

Johnny James, a relief pitcher, was credited with the second victory. Mickey Mantle's sixth-inning triple drove in the tying run and Roger Maris' single scored the Yankee center fielder with what proved to be the deciding tally before 48,139, largest Comiskey Stadium crowd since July 14, 1957. Minnie Minoso's two homers went to waste.

Wilhelm and Pappas handcuffed the Tigers to five singles. Hoyt allowed only two in the opener to win his fourth game and Pappas gave up three to notch his fifth. Homers by rookies Jim Gentile and Ronnie Hansen spelled defeat for Jim Bunning. Brooks Robinson's sacrifice fly following singles by Walt Dropo and Gus Triandos in the ninth, ruined Don Mossi in the nightcap.

Ted Williams boomed his ninth homer of the season and 501st of his career, with two on, to provide the big blow in Boston's first game triumph over Cleveland, Bill Monbouquette, with a four-hitter gained his sixth victory. Gary Geiger's two-run triple and Don Buddin's homer provided Tom Brewer with his fifth victory in the nightcap.

Rookie outfielder Dan Dobbe collected a pair of singles, drove in two runs and scored another to lead Washington to victory over Kansas City. Don Lee, with relief help from Chuck Stobbs and Pete Ramos, won his third in four decisions.

Phillies Defeat Giants 2-1; Redlegs Take Two From Cubs

By The Associated Press

Lay down the shovels. Hold back those flowers. There's still a lot of life left in the right arm of Robin Roberts.

The last of the Philadelphia Whiz Kids of 1950 showed his would-be pallbearers something Sunday, handcuffing the San Francisco Giants with five hits in 11 innings as he pitched the last-place Phillies to a 2-1 victory.

Robbie, who is supposed to have nothing left but a prayer on his erstwhile fast ball, must have been pitching out of memory as he fanned 11 Giants and missed a shutout only because of Willie Mays seventh-inning home run. Eight of his strikeouts came in the last four innings as he won his third of the season and 24th of his career.

Giant manager Tom Sheehan, prevented San Francisco from narrowing the four-game gap with league-leading Pittsburgh. The Pirates had their five-game winning streak snapped by Los Angeles, 8-6.

Cincinnati took two from Chicago 4-3 and 7-5 and St. Louis split with Milwaukee. The Cards won the opener 4-3 and the Reds copped the nightcap 3-2.

Home runs paced the Reds to their double triumph. Jerry Lynch's two-run blow in the seventh won the opener for Jim O'Toole and Vada Pinson's two circuit blows helped Cal McLish to his third triumph in the nightcap. Ernie Banks' 18th and Frank Thomas' 14th four-baggers for the Cubs were wasted.

American Vitified
Bows to Herron's

Herron Transfer of Salem traveled to East Liverpool Sunday and handed American Vitified a 1-0 setback.

Ken Schoeni, a veteran catcher and infielder, turned pitcher for Salem and shut out the East Liverpool team on just one hit.

He did not allow a ball to be hit to the outfield.

Schoeni walked five and hit a batter but was tough in the clutch.

Gerry Bryson was the hard luck loser or East Liverpool. He gave up only two hits and had a shut-out going until the seventh.

A double by Jim Barnes sent home Ben Roelen from second base with the winning run. Roelen had reached second on a two-base error by shortstop Bud Hobbs.

Batting — Tony Taylor, Phillies — Philadelphia's second baseman singled home Ted Lepcio with the run that gave veteran Robin Roberts a 2-1 triumph over the San Francisco Giants in 11 innings.

Why Mercury is the better low-price car

MORE VALUE. Just look at these Mercury advantages over other low-price cars:

You ride smoother because Mercury has up to 8 inches more wheelbase... and is up to 494 pounds heavier. You're more comfortable because of Mercury's extra shoulder room, leg room, and foot room. You feel safer because Mercury's brakes are bigger (up to 26%), and visibility is better (up to 21% more). Mercury has at least two dozen extra values. Why not enjoy them all, and save a little money, too?

PRICES START $63 TO $66* BELOW EVEN THE LOWEST-PRICED V-8 POWERED PLYMOUTH FURY OR CHEVROLET IMPALA.

And we're not talking about a 'stripped' Mercury. This price comparison is based on a deluxe-appointed Monterey with luxurious nylon interior and deep, soft wall-to-wall carpeting.

This amazing price story is the result of Mercury's dramatic 1960 price reductions (as much as $174 lower than last year, including extras that are now standard equipment).

Every Mercury is lower priced than last year. All Monterey's are now low-price cars. They are priced below, or within a few dollars of, the other deluxe V-8 series in the low-price field. Come in. See for yourself.

*Based on comparison of manufacturers' suggested 1960 retail base prices for lowest-priced V-8 models.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Readers: I've been swamped with letters from readers who insist that I've supplied drinking husbands with a coast-to-coast alibi. A few husbands wrote to say, "Thank you." I intended to stop at that. Here's what the mail has been like:

Dear Ann Landers: You gave my no-good louse of a husband exactly what he's been looking for—an excuse to stop off at a bar every night. I refer to your answer to "Last-Ditch Stand."

When this unhappy wife complained you told her to take inventory and ask herself what home is like. You stuck the knife in deeper by saying: "When a husband must fortify himself with bottled courage before facing the wrecking crew at home, it means home isn't all it should be."

I'd like to wring your neck, Ann Landers. Maybe YOUR husband is no LUSH and you don't know what it's like to live in fear that the guy has been picked up for drunken driving or maybe has killed someone with his car. Let me tell you it's plain unadulterated hell. Thanks for nothing.—BEER JOINT WIDOW.

Dear Ann: Your answer to "Last Ditch" was the best one you've ever given. I am having it framed.

When I married Ruth she was sweet, lovely to look at, wonderful company and very affectionate. We had a great time together—until the babies started to come. Then everything went to pieces; her shape, her disposition, her interest in me, the meals and the house. I've begged her to see a minister or a marriage counselor but she won't go.

Yours is the first sensible explanation I've seen for this problem. Everybody else just assumes the man is a skunk and let's it go at that. Three cheers from—ONE OF MANY.

Traitor to Women

Dear Ann: You are a traitor to your sex. Instead of sticking up for the women (who, Lord knows, NEED your support) you defend the selfish, pampered men who should really get a swift kick in the barstool.

Why don't you admit that some husbands are cowards, weaklings and just plain stinkers and they wouldn't come straight home for Hedy Lamar?—HAD IT.

Dear Had IT: I agree with you in part—but what's wrong with a woman who would select such a lemon?

P.S.: Since you brought it up, beauty doesn't guarantee prompt and faithful homecoming. Beautiful Hedy has just shed No. 5.

Other Way 'Round

Dear Ann: Your answer to "Last Ditch" was a prize. In our house it's the other way around. My wife is the one who lives in taverns. Am I supposed to be at home waiting for her with a smile, an apron and a hot, tasty meal?—OTHER FOOT.

Dear Ann: Your answer to the woman whose husband hung around bars every night was like a dagger in the back.

I've got five kids and I am raising them alone. Oh, I'm married all right but my husband says the kids are MY job and he refuses to raise a finger even when the boys are killing each other.

So a guy who stops at the bar is getting "bottled courage" is he? Well, we wives who have to put up with drunken bums for husbands, smile to the kids and make excuses for "Daddy" every night, are the ones who need the courage. If we wives can get through the day without liquid help, the great big man should be able to do it, too.—TESTED AND TIED.

Wrong Again

Dear Ann: I knew it all along. YOU ARE A MAN. No woman would have given the answer to "Last-Ditch Stand." Whose picture are they running with your column?—ON TO YOU.

Dear On: I insist on posing for all my own pictures.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Major Lind Heads for Japan After Command School Course

Major Charles L. Lind of Salem graduated from the USAF Command and Staff College, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, on June 10.

The Command and Staff College is a 10-month course for selected field grade and senior company grade officers to prepare them for positions of greater responsibility.

Major Lind's next assignment will be Headquarters 5th Air Force, Fuchu, Japan.

Major Lind is a 1942 graduate of Salem High School. Prior to entering the Air Force in 1943, he attended Miami University. He was commissioned in January, 1944, and was assigned duty as a flying instructor with the Air Training Command.

He spent the years from 1946 to 1949 in Japan with the 35th Fighter Group. Upon return to the United States he was assigned to the Ohio Air National Guard as an air adviser. He was assigned to the Air Rescue Service in England in 1952 and upon return from there attended the USAF Fighter Weapons School in Nevada. After graduation, he was assigned to the 479th Fighter Wing at George Air Force Base, Calif., where he commanded the 434th Fighter Squadron and later served as director of material for the 479th Wing. Major Lind is a command pilot with over 4,000 hours of flying time.

He is married to the former Martha DeLarios of Dallas, Texas. They have two children, Vicki, 6, and Dana, 3. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Lind, reside at 1300 E. Third St.

Rev. John Kuder

Dr. Kuder to Tell Lutherans About New Guinea

The Rev. John Kuder, D. D., missionary to New Guinea, will speak at Emmanuel Lutheran Church Wednesday at 8 p.m.

His appearance is being sponsored by the Women of the Church. The entire congregation as well as the area American Lutheran Church congregations have been invited. A brief devotional program will precede Dr. Kuder's program and refreshments will be served in the Sunday School assembly room following the meeting.

Dr. Kuder, a missionary of the American Lutheran Church, is currently home on furlough from his work in New Guinea. Educated at the preparatory and theological departments of Martin Luther Seminary, Buffalo, N.Y. Dr. Kuder first went to New Guinea in 1934. He serves as president of Lutheran Mission New Guinea, the largest protestant mission in the Southwest Pacific. He also has been elected bishop of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of New Guinea established in 1956 in the mission area.

Dr. and Mrs. Kuder are residing at the mission furlough home in Columbus during their year's absence from the mission field.

FESTIVAL SUCCESS

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — More than 35,000 persons attended the two-day Swiss Cheese Festival at Middlefield over the weekend. Purpose of the second annual event was to raise $1,000 for new equipment for the volunteer fire department and to advertise the town's cheese industry. Garland Shetler, festival chairman, said about 10,000 pounds of cheese was sold.

Work Night Tonight At Lisbon Grange

LISBON — Work night will be held this evening for men and women of Lisbon Grange in preparation for their annual strawberry festival Saturday night at the grange hall, according to Master James Crowell.

Winners of the pound cake baking contest held last Friday evening at the regular grange meeting were:

Mrs. Zada Crosser, first, and Mrs. James Crowell, second, in the women's division; Donna Crowell, first, and Arlene Crosser, second, in juvenile girls; and Rogr Crowell, first in juvenile boys.

Judges were Mrs. John Ewing and Mrs. Joseph Rowley of Wayne Township Grange.

The next regular grange meeting will be Friday, July 5, at 8:30 p.m. at the grange hall.
